Introducing Family & Friends Dashboard – your gateway to gaining exclusive insights into how your loved ones are catching their Z's! 🧠💤

Why It's So Incredible

Unlock Insights

Ever wondered how your friends and family are sleeping? Now, you can peek behind the curtains and gain valuable insights, helping you support each other's well-being like never before.

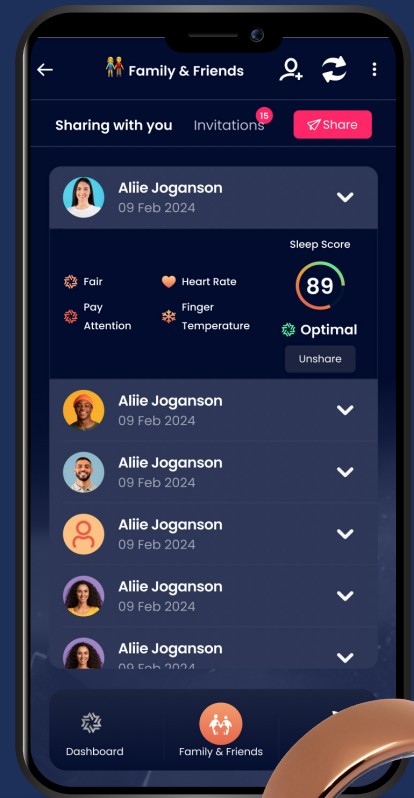

Comprehensive Guide

Ready to dive in? Check out our comprehensive guide on how to make the most of this game-changing feature:

Mutual Exchange

But wait, there's more! To keep things super secure and totally awesome, data sharing requires a mutual exchange of invitations. That means for you to access the sleep info of your crew, they gotta send you an invite first and vice versa. It's all about keeping things locked down and keeping our bond strong!

SO, WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR?

Let's spark up those connections, dive into those insights, and elevate our well-being together!

FUN FACT

During a typical night's sleep, your body goes through multiple sleep cycles, each consisting of different stages.

One fascinating stage is REM (Rapid Eye Movement) sleep, where your brain becomes highly active, and your eyes move rapidly beneath your closed eyelids.

This is the stage where vivid dreams often occur. Despite being deeply asleep, your brain is as active during REM sleep as it is when you're awake, making it a crucial part of the sleep cycle for cognitive function and emotional well-being.
